Accuracy announces the opening of a new office in Casablanca, its 15th worldwide

Neuilly-Sur-Seine, 6th February 2018

After Singapore in 2016 and Dubai in 2017, Accuracy continues its international growth by opening an office in Casablanca*.

This office will be run by Taoufik Lachheb, partner (43 years old, graduate of the Ecole Polytechnique, at Accuracy since 2013, a specialist in large projects) and Aomar Elalamy, manager (graduate of the Ecole Centrale Paris, at Accuracy since 2014, specialist in financial institutions and complex modelling).

“Our continued growth since our foundation in 2004 and our income of €80 million in 2017 allow us to consider our international development both ambitiously and serenely. A permanent office in Casablanca will enable us to consolidate our relationships with Moroccan groups, serve our clients more easily and deal with even more engagements in both North Africa and Sub-Saharan Africa alike, thanks to Morocco’s role as the veritable hub of francophone Africa,” said Frédéric Duponchel, CEO of the Accuracy group.

The synergies between Casablanca and Paris, as well as with Accuracy’s other offices, are numerous, as Taoufik Lachheb mentions: “We already work in Morocco and various other countries in Africa in areas linked to construction and infrastructure projects. We are now able to work more on banking and insurance issues, thanks to the combined skills of Paris and Casablanca together. We are able to assist players operating in the region across all sectors, in transactional, dispute and decision-making situations, which require a deep understanding of the strategic issues, a complete in-depth analysis and an estimation of financial impacts. The growth prospects for Accuracy’s operations, linked to the Moroccan state’s ambitious strategy, seem excellent.”
