

Accuracy and The Claro Group, LLC Sign Affiliation Agreement to Facilitate Global Client Services

Montréal, Québec – July 11th 2018

Accuracy, (“Accuracy”), an international financial consultancy, with offices throughout Europe, Asia, and Canada, has announced the signing of an affiliation agreement with The Claro Group, a financial advisory and management consulting firm with offices throughout the United States.

“This agreement with The Claro Group is our first and only affiliation, making it unique. It is key in our development as it reinforces our capacity in the US, in addition to our current European and Asian locations. We share values and the same vision with The Claro Group partners, and we have many common actions planned in the near future” says Frédéric Duponchel, CEO and Managing Partner of Accuracy.

“We are excited about this affiliation with Accuracy,” says George Hansen, Chairman and Managing Director of The Claro Group. “They are an organization that shares our core values, including our deep commitment to client service, high-quality work, and value. This affiliation expands the geographical reach of both firms and allows us to better serve our clients, many of whom operate in global markets.”

While each organization’s respective ownership and governance structure will remain the same, the affiliation will enhance the economies of scale for both organizations and allow for sharing of resources, knowledge, and best practices to better serve their increasingly global client base.
